(September 26, 2022 | URBANA, Illinois) – Erin Rogers, MBA, has been named interim president for OSF HealthCare Heart of Mary Medical Center in Urbana, Illinois. She replaces Jared Rogers, MD, who recently retired.

In her new role, which is effective September 26, Rogers will lead OSF Heart of Mary in aligning with the overall OSF HealthCare strategy. She will be responsible for directing internal operations at OSF Heart of Mary and ensuring that high-quality and cost-effective health care is always delivered.

“I look forward to carrying forward a culture of collaboration and integration that provides a safe and supportive environment for patients and Mission Partners [employees],” Rogers said. “I’m excited about the vision for the future at OSF Heart of Mary and am committed to embracing the Catholic health care heritage and supporting the Sisters’ Mission of serving with the greatest care and love.”

Rogers has been part of OSF HealthCare since 2017, most recently as regional director of business development. Prior to joining the OSF HealthCare Ministry, Rogers spent many years in operations and maintains certification as a Medical Practice Executive. Rogers is skilled at building and growing strategic relationships and looks forward to further growing services at OSF Heart of Mary, including the Blessed Beginnings Birthing Center and the Cardiovascular Institute.

Rogers earned a Bachelor of Science degree from Illinois State University. She went on to pursue a Master of Education in early childhood special education administration from the University of Illinois and then a Master of Business Administration from Illinois State University.
