How great is the need?

Being able to bring in a large number of beds to central Illinois keeps people close to home allows us to provide that continuity of care within the community that people reside and allows for family members to be much more involved in the care of their loved ones which we know is evidence based and compassionate. :19

This initiative is exciting

This is a fantastic program with great need and we'll be able to service our communities in ways we've never been able to before and that's an exciting place to be. :12
